Nobody's Business

The Fringe of Toronto Theatre Festival 2010 & Nobody's Business Theatre Present:

MAUDE-LYNNE SELLS OUT!

TORONTO—Nobody's Business Theatre kicks off its busy summer festival season with the World Premiere of Maude-Lynne Sells Out!, the first of two new solo show creations by Morgan Norwich and Johnnie Walker to hit Toronto stages.

Maude-Lynne Sells Out! introduces Maude-Lynne Favour, a 21st century girl with a 19th century attitude, an Emily Brontë fixation, and a cash flow problem. You're invited to join her and her painfully geeky boyfriend Colin at home in the basement of her mom's house as she auctions off her collection of Rare Items and Victorian Literature. Everything must go!

Following a workshop presentation at Canadian Stage's Festival of Ideas and Creation, playwright Johnnie Walker (Muhammad of Yorkville, Summerworks) directs Morgan Norwich (Tough!, Factory Theatre) in this comedy about real love, real estate, and really old stuff. Maude-Lynne Sells Out! features original music composed and performed by Peter Cavell (Walking the Labyrinth, Toronto Fringe). Set and costumes are designed by Stephanie Avery (Starry Night, Nuit Blanche 2007) with dramaturgy by Courtney J. Walker (HBO Canada's Living in Your Car).

Nobody's Business Theatre has been producing hilarious, accessible and compellingly original new work in Toronto for over five years. Past productions include The Zoo-Keeper's Love Song (Toronto Fringe 2005), Muhammad of Yorkville (SummerWorks 2007, "Outstanding Ensemble," NOW Magazine), and last summer's indie hit 8 Girls Without Boyfriends at Kensington Market's Bread & Circus.

Following Maude-Lynne Sells Out!, Nobody's Business will mount the Toronto Premiere of Redheaded Stepchild, a new solo show by Johnnie Walker, at the Summerworks Festival.

Nobody's Business Theatre is Morgan Norwich, Courtney J. Walker, and Johnnie Walker.
